Our Staff of Physicians

Dr. Michael J. Gallagher is a partner and vice president of the radiation oncology physician group, Radiation Medicine Associates of Scranton (RAMAS), and also serves as president of Radiation Medicine Associates of Orange County, NY, and Radiation Medicine Associates of Pike County, PA. He is also Medical Director of Sparta Cancer Center, Sparta, NJ, and Professional Radiation Oncology Services, Poughkeepsie, NY.

A magna cum laude graduate of College of the Holy Cross, MA, he received his Doctor of Medicine degree from Case Western Reserve University, OH, and his Master of Business Administration degree with honors from Drexel University, PA.

Dr. Gallagher completed his internship in Radiation Oncology at Harvard University, MA, and trained as a Fellow in Medical Oncology at the National Cancer Institute. He completed his residency in Radiation Oncology at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania and received additional training at Fox Chase Cancer Center.

Dr. Gallagher is Board Certified in Internal Medicine, Radiation Oncology and Medical Oncology and is Board Eligible in Anatomic Pathology. He is a Fellow in the American College of Radiation Oncology and American College of Physicians.

He serves on staff at 10 hospitals in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

Dr. Gallagher has been a Principal Investigator for national cancer clinical research trials through the Radiation Therapy Oncology Group (RTOG), sponsored by the National Cancer Institute. Since 1987 he has provided leadership for RTOG community clinical research programs in PA, NY, and NJ, receiving highest national recognition for quality assurance management for these research studies. He also served as national chairman of the RTOG Quality Assurance Program.

In addition, he has participated in National Cancer Institute community clinical research studies through the Mid-Atlantic Oncology Program, Community Clinical Oncology Program, National Surgical Adjuvant Breast and Bowel Project, and the Cancer and Leukemia Group.

Dr. Gallagher completed the Executive Leadership program at Harvard University and has pioneered the development of cancer treatment centers in PA, NY, and NJ. He also has expertise in medical informatics management and in advanced computerized techniques in radiation oncology treatment.
